50 CENTS PER MONTH

TWENTY BILLION TAX LEVY UP IN CONGRESS THIS WEEK

Fight Is On to Make Wealth
Carry Burden of Stupendous Assessment

JOHNSON-BORAH CENTER OF CONSCRIPTIONISTS

Demand Is Made. For Compromise; Will Hold For Eighty Per Cent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Twenty billion dollars are involved in congressional action this week.

Under this staggering figure wealth
conscriptors are fighting to make the rich carry the cost of the war.
Against it some of the most able Senate leaders are battling to stem the tide of opinion favoring tremendous war taxes on war profits and greatly increased income levies.

While problems of strategy were being worked out behind closed doors
on the Senate side today, the House
prepared to meet tomorrow to tackle
the new $11,532,000,000 war credit bill,
take up the big soldiers' insurance
measure and launch the new $6,000-000,000 deficiency appropriation bill.

Two billions more are involved in shipping and aeroplane estimates, are expected any day.

Compromise Suggested

Over-Sunday conferences of those senators opposing the wealth conscrip-tionists developed a plan to compromise on a forty to forty-five per cent tax on war profits, instead of 80 to 100 per cent tax demanded by those fighting wealth.

This compromise is
being worked out without the official sanction
of the Senate Finance committee, but it is the result of two conferences
wherein the determined stand of the "conscriptors" was the subject of solemn discussion.

The committee bill takes only $562-
000,000 by a 26 per cent tax on war profits. Thirty senators, led by Johnson of California, and Borah of Idaho, have organized a drive to get 80 per cent. They say they will not accept any compromise at 45 per cent.

Johnson in Fight

"We may not get 80 per cent of war
profits, but we will get more than 45
per cent," said one today. "Germany took 50 per cent. We should take at least 60 per cent and show the Kaiser
we mean business."

The Johnson-Borah group today were armed with half a dozen amendments to the revenue bill, ranging from 80 per cent of war profits to 60 per cent. They also had statistics to show that even an 80 per cent tax
would not seriously disturb business.
The war profits fight probably will not begin in earnest before Wednesday,
by which time the income tax battle will be over. Proposed increases in second-class postage and a profits tax
on newspapers will be threshed out first.

APPROPRIATION FOR DESTROYERS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—A new
appropriation of at least $350,000,000
for destroyers will be asked of Congress this week by Secretary Daniels.
Supplementary plants in private shipyards for destroyer manufacture, Daniels said, would be built. He declined to say how many destroyers would be sought. He added that the appropriation might be made more than $350,000,000.

This is the first step toward assembling great numbers of destroyers to beat the U-boat, announced by Secretary Daniels recently.

MAN APPOINTED TO BUY RAW MATERIALS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Alexander Legge, general manager of the International Harvester Company, has been appointed assistant to D. M.
Baruch in the work of purchasing raw materials for the United States and the allies.

Under Legge there will be a director of steel and director of copper. J.
Leonard Replogle will have charge of steel purchasing.

The copper buyer has not yet been selected. Baruch will devote himself to the larger policies of the war industries board.

SUGAR PRICE DOWN; DON'T EAT SO MUCH SAYS BOSS HOOVER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—A reduction of one and one-half cents per pound in sugar was announced this afternoon by Hoover, but he warned
the American householder not to use
so much.

The allies are already on a sugar
ration and he hints that Americans ought to be. In the meantime a fight for lower bread prices appears to be developing toward success.

GERMANY PLANNED WAR ON U. S. FOLLOWING EUROPEAN STRUGGLE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Evidence which made American Government officials believe Germany
planned to war on the United States after defeating France and England, is in the hands of the Administration, the State Department announced today.

The State Department confirmed Lord Cecil's statement that Germany had so plotted.

Secretary Lansing refused to be specific as to what evidence there was.

REGISTER AND UNITED PRESS SCORE VICTORY GIVING DRAFT NEWS

The United Press telegraph service of the Register scored another victory Saturday evening in getting the important news of the change in schedule of the draft orders ahead of all other papers.

The Register report was the first received here until the Sunday morning papers arrived.

This is the third victory in the past week scored by the United Press. Through the service of this news agency the Register is giving as quick, definite and accurate war news as can be had in the Los Angeles papers.

ALLIES ASSAIL TEUTONS ON 3 WIDE FRONTS

LONDON, Aug. 27.—Three great allied drives assailed Teutonic lines on three fronts today. British and French troops resumed the offensive which they started last Monday. Italy continued her fierce drive uninterrupted.

In a week the Italians have taken approximately ninety square miles of Austrian territory, close to 25,000
prisoners, a vast store of guns, munitions and supplies, and inflicted stupendous casualties on the enemy—estimated in semi-official Rome advices at 75,000. The fighting today was on the comparatively open Bainsizza plateau. The rugged points of the mountains having been successfully passed, Rome looked for even more rapid progress as the troops pressed on to Laibach.

Suddenly changing his point of attack from the left bank to the right of the Meuse, General Petain won another blow at the German defenses out of Verdun. The initial shock carried the French fighters nearly a mile forward on a two-mile front.

On the British front Field Marshal Haig also mixed his blows. He drove successfully against German positions north of St. Quentin in a sector where there has been little fighting in two months. Powerfully fortified German posts of the Hindenburg line were stormed and taken and the British front advanced half a mile over a mile front.

HAIG CLAIMS SLIGHT PROGRESS

LONDON, Aug. 27.—A successful raid of Oosterveld in which a few prisoners were taken, was all Field marshal Haig reported today. He had no additional details from the Lens or St. Quentin sectors where heavy fighting was reported in last night's official statement.

COUNTER ATTACKS AGAINST FRENCH FAIR

PARIS, Aug. 27.—German counter attacks of the most violent nature failed
early today to make the French relinquish any of the ground they gained in yesterday's new offensive around Verdun. The war office reported today that all such attacks around Beaumona had been "broken up."

"We not only retained our gains,
but consolidated our positions," the statement added.

On Sunday, in the sudden shift of General Petain's drive from the east to the west bank of the Meuse, the French took 1132 prisoners, the war office asserted.

Elsewhere on the French front the Germans were busy. The official report told of great enemy activity east of Noisy and west of Czeruy in the region of Monument and Hurbise.
There were a series of attacks. These were all by specially picked storming
troops, indicating a general and determined offensive move. They were all repulsed.

OFFICIAL BERLIN ADMITS LOSSES

BERLIN, Aug. 27.—The official statement today admits that "local advances have been gained by the British troops around Malakoff and Cologne
farms," and that "the French assaults
have forced retirements in the Verdun sector."

RUSSIANS RECAPTURE RELINQUISHED HEIGHTS

PETROGRAD, Aug. 27.—Russian troops on the Rumanian front northeast of Soveia have recaptured from the enemy a height which the Teuton-ic assaults had first forced them to relinquish. It is announced today.

On the Black Sea front the Russians
co-operated with the allied fleet and raided Ordu, blowing up many small vessels.

MORE NEGROES ORDERED INTO HOUSTON SAYS GEN. BELL

Citizens Still Demanding Civil Trial For Troops Accused of Murder

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 27.—More negro troops are to be sent to Houston, despite rioting of negro regulars
here last week, Major General George Bell, Jr., in charge of the situation, declared today.

The Eighth Illinois Infantry, all negroes, are being sent here, Bell stated.
"I can control them and will not recommend that they be sent elsewhere," Bell said. "There will be no
further trouble."

Camp Logan today for duty at Camp
Bowie, Fort Worth, Texas.

Terry Smith, of Company M, Twenty-fourth United States Infantry, the last of the rioters at large, was captured late yesterday by negro civilians. They told Smith they were leading him to two other black soldiers
and instead took him to a policeman.
Smith denied he had had any part in the riot, declaring he deserted. He wore civilian clothes.

CITIZENS ASK CIVIL TRIAL

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 27.—Houston
citizens today did not relinquish
hope for the return for civil trial of the negro troops who killed fourteen persons and wounded many others in the rioting of Thursday night.

Military and civil authorities continued to work independently today gathering evidence for civil trial or court martial of the rioters.

Word was eagerly awaited from the War Department on a resolution at a mass meeting Saturday night of 3000 citizens "demanding" of Secretary Baker that the blacks be returned to Houston for trial. Indications, however, were that the rioters would be court martialled in Columbus, N. M., where they will probably arrive late today.

Houston was further incensed today
upon receipt of word that a train bearing the 600 disgraced Twenty-fourth Infantry men, of which the rioters were members, passed through Richmond, Texas. One of the troops dropped a note addressed to a negro girl, reading: "We done our part in Houston, and are now on our way to Columbus, N. M."

The note, which is said to be in the possession of Brigadier General John
A. Hulen, was weighted with a cartridge.

HOOVER IS ASKED TO REGULATE MILK PRICE

BERKELEY, Aug. 27.—Resolutions
asking Herbert Hoover to investigate and regulate the price of milk and the sale of fish in California, are on their way to Washington today. Behind the resolutions stand the Berkeley committee on the high cost of living, organized to "do a bit" in the way of cutting down prices of foodstuffs.

The resolutions were adopted on the recommendation of the committee of which Elwood Mead, professor in the University of California, was a member. Mead presented a report on the milk situation declaring that the claim of dairymen that there is a shortage of alfalfa, is incorrect. Mead maintains there is a sufficient supply
of fodder and there is no reason in boosting milk prices.

On the fish situation the resolutions declare recent legislation designed to make fish food more plentiful and more popular have not succeeded in its purpose. The food administration is asked to take steps to bring larger quantities of fish—of which California
has a plentiful supply—into the markets at reasonable prices.

LETTER RECEIVED MAY MEAN DEATH IN JUNGLE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—Is Bradley Jones, Carnegie Institute explorer, dead—a victim of dread fevers
of the South American jungles?

That was the query of Jones' San Francisco friends today following receipt of a letter written by him two months ago from an Indian village,
with one companion planning to plunge into the jungle in a last, desperate attempt to reach Lima, Peru.

The letter was a farewell, in case
his attempts to reach the coast should fail. It told of a perilous trip up the Amazon and how their provisions
were lost when their canoe collapsed.

"We are both writing letters so, if only one gets through, he can mail
the letters for the other."

BUILD SHIPS IN JAPANESE YARDS FOR AMERICAN SHIPPING

Ishii May Make Offer This Week; to Ask Relaxation
Steel Embargo

BY CARL D. GROAT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Japan is willing to grant use of her shipyards
for building bottoms to be used either in the Atlantic or Pacific trade.

Viscount Ishii will offer these yards
in conferring with American Government heads probably this week.

In return, Japan will seek relaxation of the steel embargo but will not urge too strongly the case of the Osaka shipbuilders who have been making fortunes from the war.

This was the foremost development
today in an international situation
where Japan, Russia and peace played leading roles.

Omit Question of Open Door

Japan, it was stated, will pass up the questions of the open door in China, permanent possession of the German islands in the Pacific and Japanese immigration to America, until after the war. Whether she will offer a share of her big trans-Pacific tonnage for trans-Atlantic service depends upon allied requests.

"Japan has cast her lot with the English-speaking peoples and the real object of the mission is to co-operate with great Britain and America—now and in the future"—said one of the mission men today.

What America's attitude toward the proposed offer will be is unknown,
though it is assumed some ship building agreement may be made if Japan's terms are satisfactory.

Meanwhile, the Russian situation—
pictured by Kerensky at Moscow as passing through a period of danger—gave added signs of "looking up." His fighting tone and the enthusiastic reception of his inspiring address increases the faith of the American officials.

As for peace, it seemed likely that the week would develop President Wilson's reply. Should it develop that the Pope has actual knowledge of Teuton willingness to surrender
Alsace-Lorraine, Trent and Trieste
and to restore Belgium, the answer
might be far different than otherwise.
The reply now, however, will be a rejection of the Pope's offer with a new declaration of principles that would give Germany a chance to get peace
on allied terms if she chose.

TO ASK STEEL EMBARGO BE LIFTED

TOKIO, Aug. 27.—The Japanese ambassador at Washington has been instructed by his government to negotiate with the United States Government for a modification of the American steel embargo, so far as Japan is concerned, it was learned today. Ambassador Sato, it is understood, will co-operate with Viscount Ishii, head of the Japanese diplomatic mission, to this end. America will be asked to make an exception in application of the embargo to Japan.

GIRL RESCUED AFTER ATTEMPTING SUICIDE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—Her skull fractured and suffering from other injuries, Miss Irma Wheeler, aged 15, hovered between life and death
today following a plunge off the cliff
at Land's End upon the rocks many feet below in an attempt at suicide.
She was rescued by soldiers and the coast guard crew. She had quarreled with her grandparents, with whom she lived.

WOMAN TESTIFIES IN BREACH PROMISE SUIT

OAKLAND, Aug. 27.—With prospects that the trial will continue for at least another week, testimony for
the $50,000 breach of promise suit of Mrs. Rose Bebb against Hull Mc-Cloughry, wealthy bank president, was resumed today. The attorneys took up the case at the point where they left off last week, with Mrs. Bebb on the stand for cross-examination—testifying regarding her deposition previously given covering a capital operation performed upon her several years ago.

RED CROSS DIRECTORS TO HEAR FIELD AGENT

The directors of the local chapter of the American Red Cross are to have an opportunity to hear one of the national representatives Wednesday evening.

W. S. Hush, who is field agent of the Red Cross, will be present at the meeting, which is to be held at the Army
hall at 8 o'clock.

Dr. John Wehrly, secretary of the local chapter, states that the meeting
is planned to discuss some of the matters of business which should naturally come before the organization at this time.

FEW CHANGES, IF ANY, TO BE MADE LOCALLY BY NEW DRAFT ORDER

General Crowder Makes Plain
the Meaning of Dependent Wife

Plan Is Not to Work Any Hardships to Get the First Army

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—President Wilson has been appealed to by the entire Texas Congressional District to send all negro troops out of Texas
immediately.

Senator Sheppard bore the resolution to the White House.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—A new fight in Congress to preserve the rights of married men under the draft is pending today.

Fearful lest the soldiers' insurance
bill will be regarded as sufficient grounds for nullifying dependency
claims from heads of households,
amendments are to be offered to clearly define this point.

The Provost Marshal General's effice holds that "there is no ground for exempting married men except in the case of those having dependents. If a law providing for dependents, both before and after death of the man supporting them is passed, any claim for exemption will be weakened."

"We must safeguard the married men under this bill," Senator Weeks
said today.

The danger is very great that a tremendous injustice will be done."

Other senators took up the fight to have exemption rulings specific and to protect married men with dependents.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—America's first mobilization of her citizen army
will begin within ten days.

War Department officials have detailed every point in the mobilization
of the first troops so that now there is no question in the minds of the various boards throughout the country
as to what their duties shall be.

President Wilson has made it plain that he does not want men with dependents in the new national army.
His statement as interpreted by Provost Marshal General Crowder
points out that it is not the purpose of the Government to call into service men who have wives who will be forced to go to work to make a living
when the husband is taken away.

The President does believe, it is pointed out, that there should be no
exemption in the case of a woman who has independent income, or if her husband has accumulated sufficient
means to care for her in his absence.

It is the purpose of the government to call only 5 per cent of the men listed for service on the first summons. The object of this is to get a skeleton army in camp of men who have had experience in military affairs, cooks, etc., in order that there may be no confusion when the larger body of men arrive.

The men first called will go forward
in small increments of one per cent
on each of the first five days. The local boards will be given full instructions as to how to select the men for the first division. The men will be summoned, given instructions, transported, and meal tickets, and told when to appear at camp. General Crowder has made the position of the Government very plain in the text of his message, which follows:

Crowder's Opinion

General Crowder's opinion on the President's letter follows:

"I—a feeling has been expressed that, in passing on claims for discharge on the ground of dependents,
local boards ought in no case to refuse a discharge to a married man or to the head of a family. The law under which local boards act requires that, before such a discharge can be granted, dependency as well as relationship must be established. The matter having been presented to the President, therefore, it is ordered that:

"We ought, as far as practicable, to raise this new national army without creating the hardships necessarily entailed when the head of a family is taken and I hoped that for the most part those accepted in the first call
would be men who had not assumed
such relations.

Dependents Chief Basis

"The selective service makes the fact of dependents, rather than the fact of marriage, basis for exemption.
Undoubtedly there are many cases
within the age limit of men who are married and yet whose accumulations or other economic surroundings are such that no dependency of the wife exists. The law does not contemplate exemption for this class of men.

"The regulations promulgated on June 30, 1917, should be regarded as controlling in these cases and the orders issued under that regulation
directing exemption boards to establish the fact of dependents in addition to the fact of marriage, ought not to be abrogated.

"The attention of this office has been invited to the fact that, in a few instances, local boards have certified to district boards as held for military service, men whose families are actually dependent upon them for supply."

HISTORY POINTS FINAL SUCCESS OF DEMOCRACY

The Christ Principle Incorporated In Our National Life Means Victory

"Do not despair! This is not a time for pessimism. Though an unspoken tragedy has befallen the world and literally rivers of blood are pouring out tonight, I am an optimist amidst it all. Help mould the brotherhood!"

"What the world needs today and is going to have without a doubt is a few great all-comprehensive truths that will displace false ways of thinking, truths that are like the foundation stones that sink to the eternal rocks, truths that do not apply to some sect of religion or some political party or some little cult in a corner, but are as fundamental and self-evident as the sunshine and the water, something commonplace, if you will. I cannot stay a Methodist, or a Baptist, or a Presbyterian, or a Republican, or a Democrat or a Socialist, but I must become a human being."

"We cannot unify a world until we find a great truth. If you and I simply have a few little bits of ideas, then that must mean ultimate war again. I seek a spirit of unity, a spirit of brotherhood, a spirit of search for truth.

1300 People Present
"Get together! Do not despair! Help the Brotherhood!" These were the keynotes of a wonderful address by J. Stitt Wilson last evening which closed the series of seven lectures given at the First Methodist church. Nearly all the seats in the church were occupied a half hour before the time for beginning. Probably 1300 people heard Mr. Wilson last evening and many were turned away, not even standing room available.

The music consisted of numbers by choir and by a male quartet, and a vocal solo by Mrs. Winbiger.

The preliminary address was given by Rev. J. A. Stevenson. "There are a few things I want to say," said Mr. Stevenson, "not for myself alone, but for the audience. I am glad Mr. Wilson has been here this week and that it has been my privilege to be here. I have been more than pleased. I have been instructed and inspired, and as I have listened to him I have felt that I must in the days to come be a better preacher and better citizen. I am glad to bear this testimony to him."

"Are you glad he came? If so, will you express it by a hearty 'Amen'?" We cannot possibly agree, but the differences are so small, so fearfully small, and the basis of agreement is so tremendously broad that I think we stand on the same platform. I would not go to hear a man if I could agree with everything he said. It is of the essence of democracy that the other man shall have a right to free speech. I am rejoiced in this week's meetings because of the democratic spirit, because of the clarity and forcefulness of his message.

Thinking His Way Through
"Mr. Wilson is thinking his way through and asking you and me to join with him in the pursuit as learners together. I have been glad of the public interest in this. There is not a movie show in town tonight that has the drawing power of this gathering here. Somebody has said that we must not have sensationalism? Well, there is something worse than sensationalism. That is stagnation! I wouldn't go swimming in a frog pond with scum on it. Give me the ocean with the breakers where there is something doing."

"I like these addresses because Mr. Wilson has faced these great problems with courage and optimism. Under God there is no problem that cannot be solved and no injustice that cannot be righted and no burden upon humanity that cannot be lifted. So for you tonight I have just sketched this little program of appreciation. I am glad tonight to be on the same platform with Mr. Wilson. I have listened to his message for human justice and righteousness. There is no bigger message under heaven."

"I have tried to put into words something of our appreciation, Mr. Wilson. May the blessing of God be upon you as you go as a prophet of democracy up and down this land, and when you come back to Santa Ana we hope we will have a big auditorium for you and we will fill it full for you every night."

Mrs. W. L. Grubb, the recently elected president of the Ethel Society, gracefully presided as chairman for the evening. "Once in a long time," said Mrs. Grubb in introducing Mr. Wilson, "there emerges from the millions of conservative, quiescent humanity a man whose mind refuses to travel in the rut prescribed by precedent. A man with the clearness of vision to see and the quality of courage to voice the wrongs that exist in the world. A man whose sincerity is so great and whose justice is so apparent, that he may even offend criticism and have it received in a spirit of understanding. To such a one it is your privilege to listen tonight."

A Note of Optimism
"My subject tonight in this concluding address is naturally 'Democracy Triumphant,'" said Mr. Wilson. It is a note of optimism to strengthen faith. I believe that a triumphant optimism is the truth, in spite of every darkness and every difficulty. I am inspired to the work which I am seeking to do because of an undying faith in the triumph of justice and righteousness and brotherhood among men. I have lived close to people whose lives have gone down so far that they lived with a hope. I have collected power with power, how ruthless power can be over humanity. It is in the consciousness of the despair of the despairing, and the ruthlessness of the powerful that I am inspired with a constructive optimism in the face of the world's need."

"The world is in an abyss of hell tonight. This nation is spending one million dollars every hour for the war, and rivers of blood are flowing in Europe this night. That doesn't sound like optimism, does it? I am vitally close to this world tragedy. I have a son of my own, 24 years of age, who has been called for duty in this struggle. I speak as a father with my beloved son close to my heart. 'By their fruits ye shall know them.' What I want to say is that that kind of fruit never grew on a good tree; that if there is to be built a world where blood will not flow in rivers, a world of righteousness instead of unrighteousness, we must gather up the real truth and plant it in the hearts of mankind everywhere, everywhere. We will have to turn our minds towards a conception of the sacredness of human life which Jesus gave. Jesus loved nothing but human beings. Everything was measurable by the sacredness of human life here and now. 'Inasmuch as ye did it unto the least of these my brethren, ye did it unto me.' The great religious teachers of the race put the emphasis upon righteousness and bankrupted every other substitute for religion. The supreme sin of the world is man's humanity to man."

racy where each man counts for one and the rights of each are safeguarded, that hope is strengthened in us by the history of the past. It has been the progressive struggle between the principle of autocracy and the principle of democracy. And first came spiritual democracy. If we go back 500 years we find that there was spiritual autocracy in the world. The Huguenots died for religious liberty. I came from Huguenot ancestors, and I am glad of the stuff in my veins that died for the human race. Spiritual freedom is something our fathers bought with a price.

"Then came intellectual liberty, the right to think and investigate. If a man like Edison had lived 200 years ago he would have been sent to the flames. We have put our teachers and our saviors to death in the past, but eventually the dawn began to come and the freedom to think has been achieved. Then came political liberty. Religious liberty against religious autocracy, intellectual liberty against intellectual autocracy, political liberty against political autocracy."

"And now what? That principle of democracy is at stake in the entire world tonight. The world must be made safe for democracy. The world is confronted by that terrific task. What will be the outcome? The lesson from history is that this principle has never yet failed. It has conquered and is going to conquer. We must stand against the autocratic spirit everywhere on the earth. And we might just as well not live at all on the earth in the twentieth century if this principle of autocracy is to be triumphant. Liberty is the one sacred thing, the one complete and substantial achievement of the human race, and all else is comparatively trivial—wealth, learning, mechanical progress. These are not to be mentioned in the same breath with these triumphs of democracy in the spirit of man in his relationships to his fellowmen."

The Essence of Christianity
"Christianity is not a church building. Christianity is not a Sunday. Christianity is not even something that helps you to die and takes you to heaven. I have found no recipe for dying without living right. There is something about this Christ spirit that is indefinable, and that something is a tender regard for a fellow-being. That is the essence of Christianity."

"One further point. If ever there was a dark and gloomy hour for any character in history it was the hour in which Christ hung on the cross. There he hung as a criminal. 'My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?' No power ever had made an easier conquest. When they turned away from the dying Christ they said, 'Another fool has perished.' And yet there is no success in this world apart from the spirit that is on the cross. Beyond the shadows of human history I see a figure, and it is the figure of the Carpenter of Galilee. Democracy is sure because that character lived and died and lives tonight. Democracy in organized government is the Christ principle incorporated in our social life."

"I am through. May the spirit of truth give to every man and woman something more than my words. There is a super-world, a world of the spirits of men made perfect. Do not be afraid to put your will on the side of democracy. The United States is in the most tragic hour she has ever known. We must dedicate ourselves to democracy and the Christ principle to an extent we have never known before. God bless you."

GARDEN GROVE TO HAVE DELIVERY ROUTE AFTER SEPT. 1

Postoffice Department Issues
Orders For Suspension of Santa Ana No. 2

Garden Grove goes on the map next Saturday as a town with a rural route, and by the change Santa Ana loses one of its seven routes. Through efficient efforts by the Santa Ana postmaster, Charles D. Overshiner, there will be no change in the carrying force through the suspension of the route here and its establishment at Garden Grove. W. J. Lindsay, who has been carrying Santa Ana No. 2 for many years, will be transferred to Garden Grove's first rural route, and will probably move to that place.

Notice of the change has just been received by Overshiner.

The transfer includes the entire route as it now stands, with the exception of that portion east of the Santa Ana river, which in future will be served by Santa Ana rural carrier No. 3. About 125 patrons will after September received their mail through the Garden Grove office instead of through the Santa Ana office.

Postmaster Overshiner has long recognized that Garden Grove is entitled to a rural route, for those served by No. 2 are all in that vicinity, the carrier passing through the town going and coming. The new route will be designated as R. F. D. No. 1, Garden Grove, and those who have been having their mail addressed to Santa Ana R. D. 2, should at once have their addresses changed.

With the loss of Rural Route No. 2, Santa Ana still has six rural routes, and their numbers will be 1, 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7. No. 2 is dropped, but to save much confusion and endless work the present numbers of the routes will be retained.

ORANGE MARKET STAYS GOOD, UNCHANGED

Juice Business Furnishes An Outlet For Big Quantity
of Fruit

The Pacific Fruit World, in its review of the Southern California citrus situation for the week ending Friday, says:

"The Valencia market shows no change over a week ago. Heavy arrivals of deciduous fruits from California and the Northwest together with plentiful supplies of local eastern small fruits are commanding the attention of the trade and as a result, the demand for Valencias is dull with very little possibility of a change until summer fruits are out of the way."

Shipments the past seven days have totaled 647 cars as against 525 cars the previous week, bringing the total shipments to date from all districts to 42,513 cars oranges, as against 34,333 cars total to same date last season.

Orange Juice
The orange-juice business is furnishing an outlet for Valencias in many markets and many thousands of boxes of Valencias are being used. The orange-juice business is already well established and more and more oranges are going into consumption through these channels this season than ever before. With this industry growing by leaps and bounds it will afford an outlet for the steadily increasing Valencia crop that will be of no small consequence.

Under the present status of the market the trade are very cautious in the selection of their purchases and are paying particular attention to the district from which the fruit is shipped. According to eastern reports, the quality and condition of the Valencias being offered cover a wide range, necessitating a corresponding wide range of prices.

F.O.B. quotations on fancy Valencia range from $2.50 to $2.75, being somewhat lower than a week ago with very little business reported. No new developments have come to light regarding next year's crop with the exception of an occasional report from individual growers to the effect that a few more navels are showing up than earlier in the season. At any rate, many growers realize that the coming season combined with that of the season just closed will surpass the average of any three seasons in the history of the citrus industry and will not allow themselves to become discouraged.

Lemons

The market on California lemons is very quiet. The high prices and the cool weather have hit the demand and as a result, there is very little business being transacted.

Prices depend entirely upon conditions prevailing in each individual case, making it impossible to quote prices, the range on fancy stock running all the way from $5 to $8 per box.

Until hot weather again makes its appearance no material change in the market is looked for. Shipments are light and the arrivals are light, all that is needed being favorable weather conditions.

LABOR DEMAND AT HIGH POINT; NO SHORTAGE IN COUNTY

Orange, Bean and Beet Harvesting In Full Swing With Help Sufficient

With the demand for labor at its high point in Orange county for the season, the situation is easy and there is no anticipated scarcity of help. Bean cutting and threshing is in progress, harvesting of the big beet crop is under full steam and gathering of the Valencia orange crop is demanding the help of a large number of men. Hundreds of men are employed in these three activities and all are receiving wages in advance of the scale that has prevailed in former seasons. So far as can be ascertained the workmen are satisfied with working conditions and the wage scale, the increase making it possible for them to look the increased cost of living squarely in the face and give it the ha, ha!

While September usually marks mid-season for the Valencias, the crop is by no means half gathered. Harvesting started a month later than usual and shipments have been slower because of a slow market, brought about by the large amount of fresh fruit that have been on the market. Quality is not what it has been in past seasons, and prices have been less. "The help situation in the Valencia field is all right at this time," said L. D. Palmer, manager of the Orange Fruit Exchange at Orange, this morning. "A shortage may develop a little later as the result of calls for labor in the beet, bean and walnut fields, but I do not anticipate any serious trouble. We were a little short of help last season, but with the sliding wage scale, I believe we will get by without any trouble. We have established a wage base of $2.25 per day of forty boxes. For each additional box above forty we pay 2½ cents, and under this plan we have increased the efficiency of our help from 10 to 15 per cent, with pickers making from $3 to $3.50 per day."

Picking by the box requires a little closer supervision of the pickers to see that they do not pick inferior fruit in their efforts to make a big wage. Our men, however, have been conscientious and their grade of work has been entirely satisfactory. Drones are eliminated under the sliding scale. While the men are making better wages and we are getting more work out of them, the cost for harvesting is but little more than it was when we paid $2 per day for straight work."

Palmer estimates that there are about 1200 cars of Valencias in Orange county yet to be harvested. The average price received so far this season has been about $3.25, against about $3.75 last year.

Bean Threshing
In the opinion of County Auditor W. C. Jerome, there will be no shortage of help in the bean fields.

"Cutting of limas and blackeyes on the dry lands has practically been completed," said Jerome this morning. "Lima cutting in the lowlands is about commencing. Threshing on the San Joaquin started Saturday with operation at the John Cook place, and other ranchers started machines this morning."

"It requires more men to do the cutting than it does to operate the threshing. Completion of the cutting will release men for the threshers and for other work. Laborers in the bean fields are receiving an average of 25 cents per day more than in former seasons."

CHINESE SAVES GIRL; GICK SUM HERO

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—Introducing Gick Sum, Chinese hero.

Gick went to the movies and saw a pretty girl rescued from a brutal kidnapper and there arose in Gick's heart a yearning to be a hero himself.

Miss Lucille Riddell, heroine, a pretty entertainer, on returning from an engagement in Oakland, found the car lines tied up by the strike. She started to walk home. A strange man followed her and finally caught up with her and grasped her around the waist. She screamed.

Gick, the hero, was peacefully smoking on a nearby corner. He heard the scream. Truly his time to be a real hero had arrived. He rushed to the girl's rescue and did battle with her assailant. But the man was big and strong and Gick—well Gick was badly damaged.

Two policemen arrived and ended the episode by arresting M. McGid, a watchman, as the girl's assailant.

But Gick is happy despite his blackened eyes—for now his dream of becoming a hero has been realized.

"My Country 'Tis of Thee, Sweet Land

ARMY Y. M. C. A.

Wherever the American soldier is sent he will find the welcoming Red Triangle of the Army Y. M. C. A. He will find genial, whole-souled, red-blooded men like himself, ready to serve him. No matter what his creed he will be a welcome guest. The Army Y. M. C. A. is for the enlisted man and he will find under its shelter reading matter, paper and envelopes, pen and ink, that he may write home. It is all free to him.

Wherever men are fighting in this war, whether it be in Europe, India or Mesopotamia, in Egypt or in Palestine, the men of the Army Y. M. C. A. are supplying the needs of the soldiers. They are in huts on the very firing line. They are in training camps, in the underground cities close to the roar of the great guns. They are taking the same desperate chance that the soldiers are taking.

There is no service too great for the Army Y. M. C. A. to render the men who are sacrificing their lives for world democracy. There is no danger too great for these intrepid men to risk in order to carry the Army Association work to places where it is needed the most.

The same service which brave men are giving in the very jaws of death is being rendered right now in this country. When the soldier boys of the new national army cross the ocean and go into the front line trenches they will be accompanied by Army Association men. The work these earnest fellows are doing is the greatest influence for good that the world has seen for many, many years.

The Army Y. M. C. A. strives to keep the boys clean and healthy, to keep them physically, mentally and morally fit, to make them happy, to supply amusement, recreation, entertainment, to give them some of the little home comforts that they miss so keenly. It is a marvelous work. It is the one influence that is keeping hundreds and thousands of men in the army clean and contented.

ANCIENT PACIFISTS

History never really repeats itself, but it comes near enough to make its lessons mighty useful. There have been pacifists in all ages, muddling the fate of their countries with half-truths, twisted words and misapplied moralities. Lloyd-George, in a recent speech in Glasgow, drew a clever parallel between present pacifist efforts and the pacifism of ancient Rome when it was menaced by barbarian armies.

"You can have peace at that price," he said, "but do you know what that would be? The old policy of buying out the Goth, who eventually destroyed the Roman Empire and threw Europe into the ages of barbarous cruelty."

"That policy has its undoubted advantages. I can hear the echoes of the pacifists of the day in the Roman forum dwelling on the fact that if they only buy out the Goths at a small price compared with the war, a little territory and a little cash, the Roman youth will be spared the terrors of war and their parents the anxieties of war. People of all ranks and classes would avoid the hardships of war and be able to continue their lives of comfort and luxury and ease."

"The pacifists of that day, when they had made their bargain, thought they had avoided bloodshed. They had only transmitted it to their children."

The Goth took his peace-money and withdrew. But he came again, with sword and fire. And Rome fell. It will be the same with the non-Prussian world today if it makes peace before their autocratic power is broken and Democracy is made safe for the world.

Correspondence from Manchester calls attention to the statement by the National Baby Council of England that twelve babies died each hour during 1915, while only nine soldiers lost their lives. Half of these infant deaths were preventable. A government board report asserts, "Intemperance in husband or wife is a serious cause of excessive infant mortality."

Booming a Song
Occasionally a magazine falls for a foolish thing. This comment is an allusion to a song alleged to have been written by George Cohan. Hardly does it seem possible that a grown man with a reputation honestly earned, could have been induced to set his name to such drivel. Possibly the music would be acceptable. It is published with the verbal rubbish, but not all of us may read music. If the music corresponds in quality to the words it essays to carry, heaven help us. The words are not to be characterized. There is to call them puerile would be to compliment them. One of the big magazines printed this offense in apparent good faith. Perhaps its purpose was the taking of a slam at Cohan.

Rotten Business
Recently I passed a suburban orchard with dozens of peach trees so laden with fruit that many branches had broken down. Bushels of peaches of fine appearance and quality were rotting where they had fallen. The only sign that anybody took any interest in the place or its products was a printed one warning against trespassing. Attention of Mr. Hoover solicited.

The Numerous Deutschland
Reading that the Germans are to invade the Pacific with the submarine Deutschland, one naturally wonders if this is the same Deutschland that the British sunk months ago, as attested by truthful observers, or that the British captured and interned, as attested by other observers equally truthful, or the one that they converted into a war vessel and have been using right along.

Organized Verse Writers
There is not the slightest use of being angry with members of the verse writers' club. The worst they do is to render their stuff to each other.

Eight Dollars a Week
Because a young preacher and his wife "lived" on $8 a week is no reason that others should try the trick. It isn't really living anyhow, and it is not a comforting bluff. The better plan is to avoid the necessity for existence on an $8 scale.

The W. H.'s Want Peace

As to Legs
Writing in a scientific publication P. A. Vaile declares that American legs are degenerating owing to use of the automobile. Yet never a man drove a machine without causing at least a dozen persons to use their legs on the double-quick. Singular what piffle scientists put across.

Eggs Is Eggs
Without knowing whether or not the eggs applied to the moral uplift of the rowdies picketing the White House were fresh or stale, it is impossible to estimate with any accuracy the moral status of the mob.

May Cause Peevishness
The unpleasant gentleman who is sending messages of hate to the character that might be expected from an I. W. W. eager to change from beer to blood would be wise to take a sober second thought if possible, anyhow, to take a second thought. Somebody may get mad at him if he doesn't quit.

"Fur-Bearing Roaches"
Sam Blythe was acting upon an actual inspiration when he termed a certain type of females "fur-bearing roaches." It is one of this class who may be heard deploring the presence of the "common sailors and soldiers" quite regardless of the fact that one of their duties is to save her worthless hide intact.

Journalistic Ethics
A French editor of a Socialist paper accepted a check of $30,000 from a German source. Officials thought this brought his loyalty under suspicion and clapped him in jail, where he died, probably of chagrin in not having got the check cashed. If any American editors have accepted such checks they have not had the good grace to die of them.

Every aspect of the war is here represented in documents and pictures. Posters showing the development of American sentiment till the final intervention, have a prominent place. Johnson to the Front

Redlands Facts

This paper has never been a blind follower of Hiram Johnson, but we have endeavored to follow every time Hiram was right—and truth compels us to interject the remark that he has been right a good many times in the last few years. But there is no right-thinking person who will not follow him at the present time in his fight for the conscription of wealth for the war, which fight was opened in the debate on the revenue measure in the United States Senate a couple of days ago. We have formerly briefly alluded to Senator Johnson's stand, and approvingly. As the full speech has come, it is apparent that he did not speak without having given this important subject due thought. And all the eloquence which he is able to command whenever a matter involving the rights of the people is at the front, the merciless satire which flows so readily from his tongue in slashing opposing principles, with the irresistible logic of sound thinking, he brought to the speech that has stirred the whole nation.

It is said to be a calamity to live in California, as far as national politics is concerned. But it looks as though Hiram Johnson would overcome the handicap. Certainly he is more than ever a national figure since his address of a few days ago. Not altogether because of the brilliance of the man in thought and word, but more because of the fact that he is on the right side—the humanity side—of a great question and because he had the boldness to stand up and say so. If the budget of war taxes shall weigh more heavily upon the swollen fortunes of the rich, who have profited so greatly by war traffic, and less upon the average man, it will be due in large measure to Hiram Johnson that this is so.

CANNING AND DRYING

By W. V. Cruess, University of Calif.

JELLIES AND JELLY STOCKS

Jellies—For the production of jelly, three things are necessary, namely, fruit pectin, fruit acid and sugar. The pectin and acid are supplied by the fruit and are extracted from the fruit by crushing and pressing, or by cooking the fruit and pressing. The sugar must be added. The sugar has two functions; it makes the setting of the jelly possible and it acts as a preservative for the jelly. The general principles of jelly making as recommended by the University of California College of Agriculture are practically the same for all fruits. The main steps in the process are the extraction of the pectin by cooking, the pressing, and the clearing of the juice by filtration or settling, and the boiling of the juice that the jelly may be formed with the sugar. The directions given below for loganberry jelly may be applied with a few modifications to other jellies.

Loganberry Jelly—Crush the berries and heat to boiling in an agateware or aluminum pot without the addition of water. Boil about two or three minutes. Press out the juice through a cheesecloth or jelly bag. Add a very small amount of water to the pressed pulp and heat to boiling. Boil for about ten minutes and press out the watery solution. This may be added to the first pressing. Test the jelling qualities of the juice by mixing one glass of the juice in a small pot. Boil until the jelly will sheet from a spoon or until it boils at 220 degrees Fahrenheit, or until it will test 32 degrees Baume or 59 percent Balling in the heated juice. A candy thermometer or a good chemical thermometer can be used to test the boiling point. If this is not used, a Baume hydrometer, obtainable through any drug store for about fifty cents, may be employed. In using the Baume hydrometer, the hot juice is poured into a tall glass cylinder and the hydrometer is inserted. The reading is made at the surface of the liquid. However, the use of a hydrometer or thermometer is not necessary to make jelly. It is only necessary to boil it down until it will sheet from the spoon. If this preliminary test shows that the loganberry juice has enough pectin to make a satisfactory jelly, the whole lot may be made into jelly by adding an equal quantity of sugar and boiling down until the jelly will freely sheet from a spoon. It may then be poured boiling hot into glasses and sealed with melted paraffine. To make clear jelly, the fruit juice, immediately after it has been pressed, must be filtered through a cloth or through a felt jelly bag. The filtering must be done before the sugar is added because the sugar makes a syrup so thick that it can not be filtered.

Other Fruit Jellies—Apples must be covered with water and boiled before pressing. A mixture of one lemon and two oranges sliced, covered with ons furnish the acid in this case. Blackberries, currants, and other berries do not require the addition of any water. The juice from all of these fruits may be made into jelly by the addition of one part of sugar by volume and by boiling down to the jelling point. A number of other fruits, notably apricots, peaches, pears, strawberries and raspberries, do not contain enough pectin to give jelly. Therefore, the juice from these fruits must be combined with the juice from fruits rich in pectin. Such combinations as loganberry and strawberry, loganberry and raspberry, or apple and apricot juice may be used satisfactorily if enough of the loganberry or apple juice is added to furnish the needed pectin.

Current Jelly Without Cooking—Crush and press out juice. To each cup of juice add two cups of sugar. Stir until dissolved and pour into glasses. Do not cook. Do not seal with paraffine. This will form a jelly of remarkably fresh flavor.

Jelly Stock—The juice from fruits prepared by boiling and pressing as described above may be sterilized and kept indefinitely in bottles or in jars and used as needed for jelly making. The juices are sterilized immediately after pressing from the fruit and before any sugar is added. This makes it possible to distribute the cost of the sugar over the entire year and also makes it possible to blend any two fruit juices desired. The method is as follows:

Heat the fruit to boiling, with or without water, as the case may be, and boil for the required length of time. Press out the juice as for jelly making. Strain it through a cloth several times to clear it. Place it in a pot and heat to boiling. Pour it boiling hot into sealed jars or cans and seal at once. It will keep until needed in these containers.

An alternate method is to place the juice after filtering into clean bottles. The bottles are filled to within about an inch and a half of the top. These are then corked with corks sterilized by boiling in water for ten minutes. The corks are tied down with a string. The bottles are placed in a horizontal position in a large pot of washwater in which has been placed a false bottom to protect the bottles from the direct heat of the fire. A wire screen, wooden grating, or a towel may be used as a false bottom. The bottles are covered with water and the water is heated almost to boiling point and kept at this point for about ten or fifteen minutes. The bottles are then removed and the corks are dipped in melted paraffine or melted sealing wax to seal them.

The bottles or cans or jars may be stored in a convenient place and made up into jelly as occasion demands. To make a jelly from this jelly stock, shake the container thoroughly to mix it, pour out the contents, and add an equal quantity of sugar. Boil the mixture down until it jells. It may port, on the theory that the wife is able to work and should be pushed to the necessity of going to work to support herself and children. This situation is addressed, in the following opinion of the district board of New York City, in which opinion this office concurs, with the understanding that the phrase, "support available from relatives," is support partially or totally previously extended to the applicant himself.

Ground For Discharge
"We do not concur in the view suggested in some quarters that in case of wife and children actually dependent on applicant's labor for support and where there are no other means of support, the wife should be put to the necessity of going to work to support herself and children. Bona fide dependency of wife and children on labor of applicant where, in his absence, they will be left without reasonably adequate support, after duly taking into consideration soldiers' wage and support available from relatives, as stated in the rulings of the provost marshal general, is ground for discharge.

"This opinion clearly and adequately expresses the intent of the law in this regard.
"3—Paragraph B, compiled rulings of this office, No. 6, addressed a state of affairs where the parent or other relatives of the wife or husband are able, ready and willing to support the wife and children if any, during the absence of the husband. This ruling was responsible for a class of cases that have been brought to the attention of this office where claims of discharge had been made on the ground of dependency on a husband, who, as a matter of fact, was not dependent on himself. The ruling directed the attention of local boards to the fact that scrutiny of cases of this kind might disclose that no discharge was advisable.

Family Heads Exempt
"It was not intended that paragraph B of the amended rulings should apply to the head of a family, whose family, at the time of his summons and prior thereto, has been mainly dependent on his labor for support.

"4—Instances in which local boards have been in error in respect of these two classes of cases, are rare. It was to be expected that with 4500 local boards there would be some uniformity of decision in this regard. To provide against this uniformity, Section 27 of the regulations provides for the automatic appeal of all dependency cases to the district boards. District boards should scan the decisions of local boards on questions of dependency and wherever it appears that such decisions are illegal (as in the two cases just mentioned) or otherwise where these decisions seem to be so far un-uniform as to result in an unequal operation of the law, the district boards should reverse or modify the decision of the local board."

General Crowder ordered that only five per cent of the first draft, instead of 30 per cent, as originally ordered, should be called to the colors on September 5.

On September 19, 40 per cent of each state's quota will be summoned instead of the 30 per cent originally called for September 15, and later delayed until September 19.

On October 3 another 40 per cent will be called. The remaining 15 per cent will be called "as soon thereafter as practicable."

DRY TOMATOES:
BEST FRIEND
H. C. LIVING

BERKELEY, Cal., Aug. 27.—Dry tomatoes, peas, corn, pumpkins, squash or cabbage and help fight Friend H. C. Living.

That's what the University of California advises and backs it up with telling just how to do it.
It's very simple to dry corn, the University says. Just put it on a tray, in the sun and let it dry. Cut it from the cob first, of course. The same—except cutting from the cob—applies to peas.

Tomatoes are a more temperamental product and demand a hot, dry atmosphere or they will not dry. Cut them in slices, spread on trays and set them in the hot sun, turning daily to prevent mould and sprinkle with salt before the drying starts. When they are dry they are good and dry for it will require 24 hours soaking to restore them to their palatable form.

Pumpkins and squash must be cut into thin slices about a quarter of an inch thick with the rind removed and sweet potatoes also must be sliced. Then it is merely a case of drying them in the sun.

SPORTS

By H. C. Hamilton

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Ernie Shore, no-hit artist of the Red Sox, who recently gave his services to the navy, added just one more to the contributions baseball is making to the national fighting forces from Boston.

Following the lead of Hank Gowdy, star catcher of the Braves, when he enlisted in the Ohio National Guard, Rabbit Maranville said he would enter the navy, and other members of the National League Club are said to be ready to take the plunge.

Chick Shorten and Jack Barry are enrolled in the navy. Shorten as a yeoman and Barry in the reserve. Others are contemplating the step.

Baseball is giving its young men, without a murmur, Leon Cadore, the brilliant young pitcher of the Dodgers, was examined and accepted a short time ago for the national army. He only smiled and said he was ready. His spirit, while not typical entirely, depicts the general feeling of ball players toward service. They have been taking it all very seriously, and the younger ones have expressed a willingness to begin service at once.

The draft is going to be along in time to hit the world's series pretty hard. It doesn't seem probable that the Government would allow the play, unless it takes to remain at their work until the seasons are over. In fact, Ban Johnson, president of the American League, and John K. Tener, president of the National League, have declared on more than one occasion that baseball neither expects nor wants favors of that sort.

Among the White Sox there are certain to be vacancies in the lineup if that team goes into the series, and there probably will be even more among the Red Sox. The Giants have a number of young players eligible. The world's series will be played regardless of what happens. Ban Johnson, Governor Tener and Garry Hermann, the three outstanding figures in the national game, are convinced the public wants its baseball the remainder of the year, with special emphasis on the world's series. The President's recent statement that he saw no reason for discontinuing sports of any kind, including baseball, has given the sport a new life, with the certainty of continuance even if men gone from the game have to be brought back into action.

CARDINAL ISSUES
STATEMENT ON
POPE'S PLEA

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—The rights of Belgium enter into the very heart and essence of the whole war and every claim of justice must be met to satisfy the conscience of humanity. Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore declared this today in a statement to the United Press.

Commenting on the amplification of the Pope's peace appeal published last week, the Cardinal further expressed the opinion that it "will give a new impulse to civil liberty, the whole world over."

The cardinal's statement, received by the United Press from Deal Beach, N. J., follows:

Message of Cardinal
"I read with great satisfaction the cablegram of the United Press, amplifying the Pope's peace proposals, published with the approval of the cardinal secretary of state and though they are given to the public only now, still I have reason to believe that they formed an integral part of the pontifical mind from the very beginning. No plan of society emanating from the holy see can be considered complete that does not recognize every claim of justice as far as the ripeness of the times permits.

"Though it must be evident to every thinking man that no peace can be possible after a war as great and terrible as the present one, without a spirit of conciliation and of mutual willingness to make concessions and concessions, still I think it must be held that that rule applies only to matters of detail and of secondary importance, nor do I believe that anybody will be disposed to consider the rights of Belgium as a question of that kind and not rather as one of the first importance, entering into the very heart and essence of the whole conflict, wherein, in order to satisfy the conscience of humanity, every claim of justice must be fully met and satisfied.

"Further, the clear statement of the Cardinal secretary of state that the form of government is to be left to the free choice of every people, marks the very cornerstone of civil liberty, and it is my impression that strong confirmation of the holy see to the old American principle will give a new impulse to civil liberty the whole world over.

BAN ON SWORDS FOR AMERICAN OFFICERS

WILL SAVE ABOUT $84,000 IN TRADITIONAL INSIGNIA ALONE THROUGH ACT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—The traditional sword will not clank at the heels of American army officers in France. This is the first time in American history the officers' sword has been abandoned in battle.

The French and British banned swords for their officers during the first year of the war. America, now, follows suit by official order of the War Department.

The reason is simple and sufficient. During the first year of the war French and British officers were easily distinguishable from their men by their swords, uniforms and insignia and the Boche sharpshooters concentrated their fire on them with deadly effect.

The idea ever since has been to make commanding officers look as much like enlisted men as possible. If you happened along the front in France and met General Haig, commander-in-chief of the British field forces, you couldn't tell him from a private until you got close enough to shake hands with him.

Not Easily Distinguished
The insignia of French, British and American officers on the western front now cannot be seen farther away than the whites of their eyes. They wear the same service uniforms and carry the same arms as the enlisted men of their commands.

The War Department has employed experts to devise cloth colors, and buttons and insignia material to make the troops as invisible as possible. The buttons on the army field service uniform are dark bronze. The insignia on an officer's coat are small bronze, dull silver or gold devices which cannot be seen across the street.

The only difference between the insignia on the collar of an officer and on that of an enlisted man is that the enlisted man's letters are on a disc while an officer's are in a straight line and separated.

Regular army insignia on the collar is "U. S." and on the reserves, "U. S. R."

The arm, corps or staff department a man serves in also are shown on the collar. A general staff officer wears a U. S. coat-of-arms superimposed on a five-pointed silver star.

In the adjutant-general's department the device is a gold shield. The inspector-general's department men wear a sword and a fasces crossed and wreathed in gold with the inscription, "Droit Et Evant."

Gold Insignia Used
Judge advocate general's department, a gold sword and pen crossed and wreathed. Quartermaster's corps, gold sword and key crossed on a wheel surmounted by a spread eagle. The rim of the wheel is blue enamel set with stars.

The Medical Corps wears a caduceus of gold. A dental surgeon, the same, surmounted in the center of a bronze monogram bearing the letters "D. C."

The Ordnance department, a shell and flame of gold. Signal corps, two crossed signal flags with a gold torch in the center. Cavalry, crossed gold sabres. REAL DEMOCRACY
TO CAPITOL
VISORS

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 27.—Real democracy toward any disturbing elements is productive of more safety than posting armed guards, at every doorway, was the attitude expressed by George Radcliff, superintendent of the state capitol building and grounds, in response to an inquiry from the Colorado Council of Defense, regarding the steps to safeguard the capitol building.

"There is no class distinction in the treatment of visitors, on business or pleasure bent, to the California capitol building and grounds," wrote Radcliff. "They are all welcome, provided they behave themselves and obey our very few unwritten rules."

Radcliff said that this system has been in operation for over six years and in that time there has been no trouble worth mentioning.

"There have been times when armed guards and lots of them, seemed necessary," said Radcliff. In speaking of the inquiry made by the Colorado Council of Defense, "but conditions adjusted themselves under the democratic system, without trouble."

Won Firsts In All Classes Entered at Long Beach
Dog Show

Dr. Roscoe Whitted's bull dog, Chunky Malone, cleaned up every-thing in his class at the dog show held in Long Beach Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week, under the auspices of the Bayside Kennel Club of Venice.

A Chicago Judge passed on the points and pronounced the Whitted dog one of the best of his age he had ever seen. Eastern and imported bulls were in competition with the local dog and the honors he captured ranks him as one of the best on the coast. He took six firsts, a special and reserve. The special carried a cup prize, and makes the second win by Chunky Malone. The dog is only a year and a half old and has won firsts in all the four shows he has been entered in, winning twice at Long Beach, once at Pasadena and once at Los Angeles.

In Long Beach last week he captured first in the following six classes: Best novice bull dog, best Pacific coast bred, best bred by exhibitor, best American bred, best limit under 45 pounds, free for all under 45 pounds. A fox terrier purchased for $1000 was among the 300 dogs on exhibition at the show. He is owned by a Colorado man.

Dr. and Mrs. Whitted were in attendance at the show during the three-day exhibit.

PRESIDIO OFFICERS
BEGIN REGULAR WORK

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—The course of instruction in the second Presidio reserve officers training camp began today when 1500 men were divided into nine companies of infantry, three batteries of field artillery and one coast artillery company and began work in the school of the soldier. Army officers observed that the men in the second camp have had less actual military experience than those of the first camp but are just as enthusiastic to learn and are of as high a general class.

SEES MOVIE SCENERY;
COLORADO SHERIFF NOT COMING WITH PRISONER

Sets His Own Price For Bringing Accused Man Here—Rusk Turned Loose

There is a sheriff at Telluride, Colo., who won't come to California just for scenery.

"Colorado sheriffs are used to traveling first class," said he, "and we can get the scenery at a movie for five cents."

H. S. Rusk was arrested at Telluride on a charge of giving a no-fund check to J. B. Fragley of the Alherton Hotel in Santa Ana last January. District Attorney West and Sheriff Jackson were about to send Deputy Sheriff Arthur Eells after the man, but owing to the fact that Eells is drafted and because delay might result in a decision of Rusk to change his mind about not asking for extradition, it was decided to ask the Colorado sheriff to bring the man here, to be paid the expenses when he arrived.

The Colorado officer wired that he would start when the sheriff here wired him $260. The officers here had figured that the trip ought to be made for about $180. They wired something to that effect to Telluride. Then came a picturesque reply. The sheriff back there said Colorado sheriffs are not used to traveling second-class or carrying lunches and they could see California scenery in a movie for five cents. Unless the money was sent forthwith he was going on a vacation and the prisoner would be turned loose. District Attorney West wired to turn the prisoner loose.

BENCH WARRANT IS

IN MURDER TRIAL

Hortense Contreras Fails to Appear at Trial of Rufus Acosta, Charged With Murder

With one of the principal witnesses missing, and following a delay of half a day in starting trial of the case, Rufus Acosta is this afternoon on trial before a jury for alleged murder of his brother-in-law, Antonio Villa Gomez at La Habra on May 14, last.

The trial was scheduled to start this morning, but owing to misunderstanding on the part of Attorney Rivera, representing the defendant, postponement was made until afternoon. Rivera had been away on his vacation, and had made arrangements for Attorney Gardner to be present. The latter got mixed in his dates. Rivera returned from his vacation this morning and was present in court this afternoon, as was also Gardner.

Hortense Contreras, one of the principal witnesses, was also absent, and a bench warrant was issued for her arrest. She is thought to be in Los Angeles.

The jury was secured quickly and the following men were sworn in to pass judgment on the guilt or innocence of the defendant, according to the testimony given by the witnesses: J. W. T. Kimball, L. M. Lindsey, E. E. Cooley, John Schmidt, Jas. McMillan, W. H. Kiser, J. R. Fletcher, Albert A. Lee, A. C. Mosher, Waldo Leihy, J. T. Dilley and W. H. Loptein.

Deputy District Attorneys Koepsel and Menton are prosecuting.

Suing for Attorney Fees
William J. Connell, an attorney of Omaha, Neb., today filed suit against Herman H. Otto and Moritz N. Otto to recover $13,450 and interest from February 28, 1914, alleged to be due him for services rendered the defendants in defending them from an action brought involving cash and property alleged to have been worth $650,000 at the time of the action.

The complaint alleges that the plaintiff was employed by the defendants on October 7, 1913 to defend them in a case brought by their sisters, Winnie, E. Wiseman and Emma L. Faustman, in York county, Neb., superior court, in which the sisters claimed that the defendants had used undue influence on their father in securing three deeds on May 17, 1911, to valuable property. One of the pieces was 3520 acres near Charleston, another was a section near Livingston, and a bill of sale to a grain elevator in Livingston. The case was finally compromised by the sisters accepting $74,000 in cash and deeds to property worth $6000. Connell says his services were worth $15,000 and that he has received only $1550, which amount went to another attorney assisting him in the case. He asks the court for judgment for the balance. Groof and Van Etten, of Los Angeles, represent the Omaha attorney.

One lien is for $481.90 by Clever & Gulick of Fullerton and the other is for $58.88 by Gibbs Lumber Company of Fullerton.

CLINTON'S GONE

Cox Says That Next Time He
Will Send Own Constable
Even If He Pays Bill

"San Diego, Cal., Aug. 25, 1917. "Sheriff C. E. Jackson," am returning warrant for R. Clinton, as this party skipped out for parts unknown, leaving many unpaid bills and is not likely to return to this vicinity. Regretting I could not apprehend this man for you, I remain,
"RALPH L. CONKLIN,
"Sheriff."

This tells the story of the escape of Rathbone Clinton of Coronado from the talons of justice.

He was charged with speeding at fifty-four miles an hour in Orange county, and Justice Cox has won his spurs by sending speeders of that caliber to jail for ten days apiece. That is, Clinton would have been sentenced to ten days had he appeared in court. Clinton is the man who was reported to have been made ill by the very prospect of appearing before Justice Cox. After much preliminary sparring, he made up his mind to face the music. He got as far as San Juan Capistrano where Walter Congdon happened to tell him that Judge Cox was sending 'em to jail if they traveled faster than fifty miles.

"He will never get me, then," said Clinton as he wheeled and headed for San Diego.

Justice Cox says that he felt in his bones that Clinton was fixing to leave the country. He insisted on trying to get Clinton under $200 bonds at once, but he says other authorities were not nearly so anxious as he to get the man into court. Cox wanted to send a motorcycle officer to San Diego to see just how sick Clinton really was. However, that was not done.

The warrant was sent to Sheriff Conklin of San Diego, and Conklin's report with the warrant returned appears at the head of this article.

Justice Cox is angry this morning. He declares that it was no fault of his that Clinton got away.

"The next time anything of this kind comes up," said he, "I'll send one of the constables out of my court, and if the district attorney won't o. k. the expense bill I'll pay it out of my own pocket."

Clinton's case was set down for last week, but at the request of a Coronado justice, who said he knew Clinton was all right, Justice Cox set it forward to 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. Since the arrival of Sheriff Conklin's letter, Cox has no expectation that Clinton will be here on time.

THREE MEXICANS
STABBED, ONE
IS KILLED

Killer, a Bad Hombre, Uses Knife, Escapes On Bicycle In Night

Ruperto Huerto, reputed Mexican bad hombre, stabbed three Mexicans in a blind pig row at Wintersburg last night. One of the three men, Sherk and Gonzales, is dead and the others, Guaro Alvarez, with a stab wound in the groin, and Leonardo Abiles, stabbed in the chest, are at the County Hospital, neither badly hurt.

Mexicans told Sheriff Jackson and Deputy Maxwell, who were called about 1 o'clock this morning, that Huerto had now stabbed eight men. A year ago at Wintersburg he stabbed a man named Puerga, who would not prosecute him.

Huerta was gone for awhile. He returned Friday and evidently started a blind pig business in a big way across from the Wintersburg road. Half a sack of beer was the stock in trade. According to indefinite statements by one of the wounded men, the four men drank until about midnight when Gonzales, who was killed, was accused of stealing $12. That started the row. Gonzales was cut across the abdomen, and died in three hours.

Huerta got a bicycle and rode west.

ERROR IN PASSING;
AUTO IS TURNED ON SIDE BESIDE ROAD

An automobile was turned over on the Westminister boulevard near Westminster yesterday afternoon at 3:40 o'clock. According to the statements made to Motorcycle Officer Carr, W. L. Howard of Long Beach was passing a machine occupied by W. F. Peck and his family of Ohio, who are stopping at Long Beach. Howard misjudged the distance and struck Peck's front wheel, with the result that Peck's machine was turned over.

Peck had a number of severe cuts. He was taken in a passing machine to Long Beach. No other was hurt. The machine was turned over, wheels up.

Bedtime Story

About a Gold Ring

[Adapted From Grimm's Fairy Tales.]

AFTER the children and daddy had weeded the garden he told them this bedtime story about a man who slept instead of breaking the enchantment that kept a princess a raven. "The old witch put food and drink where a man could take them. This was the third time he had taken food from her, although each time he had promised to stay awake and save the princess."

"When he smelled the food he could not help taking it. Three o'clock came, when he was due to be watching on a heap for the princess in the garden. But, just as before, he felt so weary and sleepy that he threw himself down and went fast asleep."

"On the stroke of 3 the raven princess could be seen approaching. And this time her coachman as well as everything about her, even her four horses, was black."

"She was very sad as she drove along and mournfully thought, 'I know he has fallen asleep and will not be able to free me.'"

"She found him sleeping heavily, and all her efforts to wake him were of no avail. Then she put beside him a loaf, some meat and a flask of wine, enchanted so that, no matter how much he ever ate of them, they would never become less."

"After that she drew a gold ring off her finger. Inside it her name was engraved, and she put the ring on one of his fingers. Finally she put a letter beside him in which she told him about the food she had left. The letter ended with: 'I see that as long as you remain here you will never be able to save me. But if you still wish to do so come to the golden castle of Stromberg. This is something that you can well do.'"

"Then she returned to her carriage, drawn by four black horses, and drove to the golden castle of Stromberg."

"When the man awoke and found that he had been asleep when the princess came he was grieved at heart. 'She has been here and driven away, and it is now too late for me to save her!' he cried."

"Then his eyes fell on the things that she had left for him. He read the letter and knew from it all that had happened. He arose without delay, eager to be on his way. He wanted to reach the castle of Stromberg as soon as possible, but he had no idea which way to go. He traveled along a long time in search of the road to Stromberg. At last he came to a big, deep forest, through which he went on walking for fourteen days and still could not find a way out."

"Thank you, daddy!" cried the children, giving him two good night kisses.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—Invasion by women of the bank vaults and the sacred ground behind the wickets for many years a privilege reserved to men, has been brought about by the war, according to San Francisco bankers today. Fifteen per cent of the force of one bank has been drafted and replaced by women.

"By January 1 I expect to see fifty per cent of our staff at war," said the president of this bank today.

HOLLY SUGAR CO.
DEPORTS MEXS
WHO REFUSED
TO WORK

Twenty-two Imported Cholos
Returned to Native Country On Saturday

Twenty-two Mexicans imported from Mexico to work in the beet fields of Southern California were deported Saturday and shipped out on their plans to get free transportation here and then desert their employers and take up other work. They were employed by the Holly Sugar Company of Huntington Beach in beet fields at Compton and had been working only a week. It soon developed that they did not want to work and that they came here with a view to jumping their contract at once. The Holly Sugar Company shipped them at once, paying their fare to Nogales, from which point they were deported.

"They were a lazy bunch and disturbers," said Labor Superintendent O'Brien of the Holly factory this morning, "and we just put them on board the cars, paid their fare back to Mexico to get rid of them. They said they didn't want to work any way and that they came here with the intention of jumping their agreement just as quick as they could."

"They were not agitators—just the low class of indolent cholos. They were paid a minimum wage of $2.25 per day for nine hours. They wanted more money and an 8-hour day."

Between 600 and 700 cholos have been brought into Southern California since the beet harvest started under a permit issued by the immigration department. The permit was issued for a specific work—harvesting beets. The American Sugar Company secured the larger percentage of the imported Mexicans for work in beet fields supplying the Chico and Oxnard factories. About fifty came into Orange county. Those who are now at work in the county are giving good service and are well satisfied with the wages and hours. A few of them are working on the San Geronimo ranch near Huntington Beach.

NEED COOKS IN CALIFORNIA

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 27.—Women cooks for farms are at a premium in California, declares John Blair, deputy state labor commissioner. For the first time in the history of the state labor employment bureau, there is a dearth in women cooks.

Blair says appeals for cooks are coming in daily from all parts of the state and even from Oregon. Due to the shortage, the women cooks are receiving higher wages than ever before.

A woman recently applied at the bureau for a position as a cook at $40 per month and board. A rancher hurried in to get her and raised her to $60, declaring he would add $20 more as soon as the cook started the fire.

FOLLOWING A WRECK
WHISKEY FLOWS UPON
THE STATE HIGHWAY

Following a crash on the state highway a mile and a half north of San Juan Capistrano yesterday, whiskey flowed in a rivulet off the pavement.

Arthur Alvarado of 811 East Fifth street, Los Angeles, is authority for the statement. He made it today when he swore to a complaint for a man whose name he did not know.

He was driving a Ford truck belonging to Yee Sam, a vegetable man, when he saw a machine approaching, taking all of the road. Alvarado got to one side, but there came a tangle. Wheels were torn off of both machines and the one that was taking all the road gave forth a crash of glass. Alvarado got the number of the machine, which is registered as belonging to F. G. Bernad.

Alvarado got a warrant for "John Doe" for careless driving.

At Campbell's Hall Tomorrow Evening

ORANGE, Aug. 27.—Soldiers of the past and soldiers of the present, women who bore the suffering of one war and women who will join with them in bearing that of another, martial music from band and drum corps, patriotic speakers and patriotic listeners; all of these will be a part of the big mass meeting tomorrow evening at Campbell's hall. It should prove such a celebration of Americanism as the city has never before witnessed.

The U. A. R. post and the Women's Relief Corps have accepted the invitation to attend the meeting in a body and will occupy a reserved section. A special invitation has also been extended to all soldiers in this locality to be present. The meeting therefore will have a decidedly military air.

Judge W. H. Thomas and Attorney Clyde Bishop, the two orators of the occasion, are both so well known on the platform as to need no introduction or recommendation to the local public. It is a privilege to hear either of them.

Chairman Craddock of the committee on arrangements has marshaled his corps of assistants and laid careful plans for handling the crowd and for the distribution and collection of membership cards, which will enroll the audience in the American Council for American Patriotism and the Orange Home Guard.

WOMEN WANTED;
CALIFORNIA

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 27.—Women cooks for farms are at a premium in California, declares John Blair, deputy state labor commissioner. For the first time in the history of the state labor employment bureau, there is a dearth in women cooks.

Blair says appeals for cooks are coming in daily from all parts of the state and even from Oregon. Due to the shortage, the women cooks are receiving higher wages than ever before.

A woman recently applied at the bureau for a position as a cook at $40 per month and board. A rancher hurried in to get her and raised her to $60, declaring he would add $20 more as soon as the cook started the fire.

HURLED FROM
CAR ON STATE
HIGHWAY

Machines Collide Saturday Night on Road Between Fullerton, Anaheim

E. R. Dargatz, wife and daughter, Ellen, of Orange, were slightly injured late Saturday night when they were hurled from their automobile on the state highway between Anaheim and Fullerton, following a collision with a car driven by E. L. Camby, of the Union Oil Company, at Fullerton. No bones were broken but all the occupants of the Dargatz car were bruised and scratched. Camby was not hurt.

According to the story of Dargatz, Camby was driving faster than the law allows. Anticipating danger, the Orange man drove his car clear to one side of the road, but despite his care, Camby's machine struck his. Both cars were badly damaged, one of the wheels of the Camby machine being found in the orchard several yards from the point where the collision occurred.

SMITH WAS HERO
AT THE BEACH
YESTERDAY

Assisted In Rescue of Bathers Whose Lives Were Imperiled By Waves

Floyd Smith of this city was a hero on two occasions at Balboa yesterday and saved endangered bathers from drowning.

Smith and L. M. Combs went to the assistance of a man in distress early in the afternoon bathing period. The bather was a big, fat man and was easy to handle, and the two men brought him to shore without any particular difficulty.

Smith had no more than gotten well rested up until two women called for help and he and two other men started to their rescue. The ladies were well out beyond the breakers and near the barrel supporting the ocean end of the life line. One of the rescuers was at the barrel when the women called and was the first to reach them. He became exhausted, however, about the time Smith reached them and he was relieved by Smith and another man. The ladies were good swimmers, but had been caught in a current and were being carried out to sea.

The names of the three persons who called for help were not learned by Smith, neither were the names of those who assisted him in the rescue of the two women.
